cooperation model 2027

What is the concept?

For 2027 and beyond, gezwanzig is developing a collaborative model that opens the Vienna space to international or/and local galleries, institutions, foundations, and cultural organizations.

Instead of operating as a traditional gallery, the space will host external exhibition programs, institutional initiatives, satellite projects and cultural exchange formats.

Partners may utilize the space as a satellite location, exhibition venue, project space, showroom, or platform for cultural exchange while benefiting from local expertise, infrastructure, and networks.

about gezwanzig

Founded in Vienna in 2023, gezwanzig is a contemporary art platform focused on conceptual, geometric and spatial artistic practices.

In addition to its gallery locations in Vienna and Innsbruck, gezwanzig has developed two independent formats:

gezwanzig projects, dedicated to large-scale group exhibition.
gezwanzig showcase, a portable and modular exhibition platform.

Looking ahead, the platform continues to evolve through collaborations, innovative exhibition formats, and international exchange.

our next chapter

Since its founding, gezwanzig has continuously evolved through new formats, collaborations, and exhibition models.

As we look towards 2027, we aim to focus more strongly on large-scale group exhibitions, site-specific projects, public space interventions, and international cultural exchange through gezwanzig projects and gezwanzig showcase.

By opening our Vienna location to selected partners, we create the capacity to further expand these initiatives while simultaneously offering international organizations a professional platform in Vienna.

WIEN AUSSTELLUNG

Interview with Arnold Reinthaler

'At a close distance', a solo exhibition by Austrian artist Arnold Reinthaler, is on view until 23 January 2026 in gezwanzig gallery in Vienna. We talked with Arnold about his processes of working and the notion of time that is a driving force in his already thirty-year-long art practice.
